These Who Go to England Will Hardly Be Missed - Hig Salaries Prevail - Eugene Leigh to Train for Richard Croker -Local Trainers Begin Work.

so many first-class American jockeys are sailing for Europe these days that some persons fear that there will be a dearth of good riders on metropolitan tracks this season. But as a matter of fact those who go abroad in search of new honors and fortune will hardly be metallicated. and fortune will hardly be missed and they include such stars as Henry Spencer, Milton Henry, Johnny Reiff, Cash Sloan, Joe Pig-gott, Danny Maher, "Skeets" Martin, Eddie Jones, Archie McIntyre and Nash Turner. Those who remain will draw big salaries, the yearly earnings ranging from $10,000 to $30,000. William C. Whitney will send Turner to England to ride among others Nasturtium in the Derby, but he will have Tommy Burns and probably Harry Cochran to ride for him in this country. Burns will draw a salary of $12,000 for the coming season. There was considerable fault found with his work during the early part of last year, but Mr. Whitney soon took Burns to task, with the result that the boy showed immediate improvement and later on did some fine work in the saddle. Burns possesses a cool head and can finish with the best of them. He is a bit of a rough rider and has caused trouble ause of this fault upon several occasions, the most notable being his ride on Blue Girl last year in the race where Nasturtium was mocked to his knees and the charge was made that Burns struck Garrigan over the head with his whip. Cochran did some riding for Mr. Whitney last year and did it well, but there seems to have been a hitch over his engagement for the coming season. He is a youngster who, in spite of limited experience, has made rapid strides
Willie Shaw, known as the product of "Pittsburg Phil," will not be identified with the noted plunger this year, but will ride for James R. Keene. Shaw, it is understood, will receive a salary of about $15,000. This young man was the talk of the turf world in the early part of last year and his mounts were followed by thousands of bettors. His best qualities are level-headed judgment and clever hand riding. Shaw never uses whip in getting his mounts home and that reason he manages to draw many finishes. When Leonora Loring beat last year. Shaw got into trouble because, as it was charged he did not make a more vigorous effort to win on Mr. Whitney's Sir Dixon filly. As Spencer was growing too heavy to ride steadily for the Keenes, who also wanted to send him to Europe, James Rowe decided that Shaw would be the best jockey to ride for the stable, so the quiet William was engaged practically at his own

Rowe decided that Shaw would be the best jockey to ride for the stable, so the quiter William was engaged practically at his own terms.

Not to be left in the general shuffle for jockeys, J. B. Haggin took time by the fore-jock and engaged Wonderly last summer for the approaching campaign. The salary was stated at the time to be $15,000 or more. Wonderly rode with such brilliant consistency when he first made his bow on Eastern tracks that he was in great demand.

A. Featherstone will has first of Connor, one services, which the relative received as a gift after was the colt Yankee to victory in the rich Futurity. J. E. Madden paid about $8,000 to Mr. Featherstone for O'Connor's services, which the latter received as a gift after ward. Then for winning the Futurity, Madden gave to O'Connor something like $10,000 more, it is said, which made the boy's work for the day decidedly profitable. O'Connor shahe confidence of the betting public for the reason that he has seldom been mixed up in scandals. He is a superb finisher, either with whip or hands and possesses a most own from Canada last summer and made his bow in the East with nothing to back him but a fair record shown at several obscure tracks. But it did not take Redfern long to show that he had the making of a great jockey and soon Col. Pepper and J. E. Madden were bidding for his services. Col. Pepper agreed to pay him $16,000 for two years which was to tempting an offer to turn down. J. W. Schort, the Memphis turfman, still has first of the proposed and the services and old head on young shoulders and will be kept busy hereabouts this year was consulted and the services of the constraint of the constraint of the proposed proposed proposed the season is too much of the proposed proposed the committee was and hand because the constant of the proposed proposed the constitution.

The decision to exclude Story and the fail when the attention of the committee was delicated to the facts.

At a meeting of the committee the don't have the attention of the committe Owner Schorr has nothing for him to do.

Green B. Morris has picked up a crack young jockey named L. Jackson out in California. This youngster can ride at 80 pounds and has been riding winners all winter. Mr. Morris, who knows a good jockey when he sees one, agreed to pay Jackson $8,000 for the coming year and the boy will be seen in the East as a result.

August Belmont's regular jockey for this year is Bullman, who has also been on the coast all winter. Bullman is a vigorous rider, somewhat inclined to sue the whip too much and also showing a tendency to rush his mounts to the front too soon. But he is honest and that means much on the race-track. Other riders of recognized ability who will be in demand are George Odom, Harry Michaels, Mounce, L. Smith, Hoar, O'Neil, Ransch. Birkenruth, McCue, Doggett, Sims and others.

Eugene Leigh will train Richard Croker's gett, Sims and others.

Eugene Leigh will train Richard Croker's horses in England this year in the place of Enoch Wishard, who will train John A. Drake's horses in this country. Croker has sent from his training ground at Wantage six two-year-olds to Leigh, who is at Fox Hill, Lyddington. This move on the part of Croker is taken to mean that Leigh will soon handle the Tammany chieftain's entire stable and that Clem Jenkins will ride most of the Croker horses as the Reiff boys will not be seen in England this year. The names of the two-year-olds sent to Leigh are not known, but there were several yearlings by Dobbins in training at Newmarket last fall. No reference is made to Croker's Stanhope and American Boy, three-year-olds, who are entered for the Derby, but it is believed that Leigh will train them, too.

The heavy rain of the past few days has

Leigh will train them, too.

The heavy rain of the past few days has removed the snow and slush from the Coney Island Boulevard so that nearly all the trainers down that way are working their strings with the idea of getting ready for the meeting at Bennings, which is only three weeks off. "Father Bill" Daly, William Hueston and Fred Buelow had their horses out on Saturday, including a number of promising two-year-olds. Up at Morris Park T. J. Healey will get to work immediately with R. T. Wilson fr. shorses and those of Andrew Miller. Healey's own horses will be trained by his cousin, he says. Mr. Wilson has purchased a number of Kantaka two-year-olds from the Pepper Stables and Trainer Healey expects great things from them.

Spalding-Freedman Case to Come Up Next

Thursday-American League Meeting. The case of the Boston Baseball Association vs. the Brooklyn Baseball Club, which is the legal way of putting the Spalding-Freedman baseball controversy, is on the calendar to come up to-day in Part III. of the Supreme Court before Justice Truax. The case will. however, probably go over until next Thursday as Col. John I. Rogers of Philadelphia. day as Col. John I. Rogers of Philadelphia, one of the Spalding Four, has a business engagement and will not be able to be here today. Attorneys John M. Ward and Delancey Nicoll, representing the Brooklyn club and the Freedman side, respectively, have agreed to a postponement until Thursday. It is expected that there will be a considerable array of legal talent on hand Thursday. Besides those already mentioned, Col. Rogers, W. A. Northup, representing the Pittsburg club; A. W. Kiddle, Spalding's attorney, and ex-Congressman John J. Adams, attorney for Mick Young, one of the enjoined ones, are all likely to be on hand.

Another important baseball matter this week will be the meeting of the American League scheduled to be held in Detroit on Wednesday. Action regarding the circuit is due to be taken at this meeting and the cranks are eager to see if any moves toward taking in New York, Cincinnati and other cities mentinoned in connection with this subject, are made.

HARVARDES RASERALL PLAYERS.

HARVARD'S BASEBALL PLAYERS. Athletic Committee's Statement Insists on Clean Sport.

Boston, March 2.—The Harvard Athletic Committee, through its chairman, Prof. Hollis, to-night gave out an official statement explaining the case of Murphy and Story, the two men who have been kept off the baseball nine this year. Both men were prominent condidates for the pine.

Story, the two men who have been kept off the baseball nine this year. Both men were prominent candidates for the nine, Story for third base, where he played last year until taken with typhoid fever, and Murphy for second base, where he was substitute last year. Murphy won his "H" in the Pennsylvania game last year. The statement follows:

"In connection with the meeting attention may be called to the case of Murphy and Story in baseball. They played during the summer on a nine organized at Woonsocket. Most of the members received money for playing and the nine was to all intents and purposes a professional nine. While there is no positive evidence that either of the men received anything for their membership on the nine, the fact that one of them played under an assumed name is regarded as sufficient reason why they should not play on a Harvard team for a season.

"The authority of the men in the fact that one of them played under an assumed name is regarded as sufficient reason why they should not play on a Harvard team for a season.

"The committee desires to do what is fair by the men but they have a right to expect cooperation on the part of all players in the maintainence of clean amateur." No student ought to play on a professional baseball bine whether he receives money or not as he thereby puts the university under suspicion. There is no objection whatever to a student playing a game of ball with his friends at any time of year. But joining a regular organized nine which plays all season is too much like making business of a sport.

"The decision to exclude Story and Murphy from baseball this season on the grounds of their having played on a regularly organized professional nine was made in the fall when the attention of the committee was called to the facts.

There were eighteen starters and those who finished in good sha to expect cooperation on the part of all players in the maintainence of clean amateur sport at Harvard.

Acting Dean Woolsey of the Yale law school, after a thorough investigation, reported that Patton was eligible. Patton is really the only effective pitcher Yale has for the 'Varsity team. He pitched for the Yale freshmen last year and for the first time in fifteen years Yale won the Harvard and Princeton freshman series.

"I am in favor of the foul strike rule because I think it is a good thing for the game," says Jimmy Ryan. "I played under the rule last year in the Western League and there is one feature of it that appeals to mestrongly and that is it gives the batter determination to go after the ball. Unless a batter keeps watching the ball closely he will find that he has two strikes called on him before he knows it. The foul strike rule makes young players as eager to go after the first ball as the last."

Yale graduates are beginning to realize that they have a fair chance of being lost in the shuffle unless their material, of which there is no scarcity at New Haven, is handled by some up-to-date player who knows the game thoroughly and also knows how to teach what he knows. Persons who have seen him play say that in Patton, the freshman pitcher of last year, Yale has a twirler who will compare favorably with any of the college boxmen if properly handled.

The club is a new some and the run yesterday was the first of a series which will eventually carry with it the championship of the organization. None of the boys exceeded the age of 16. Nevertheless, considering their youth and inexperience at cross-country running all traversed the course and finished in pretty good shape. The winner turned up in J. Liebgoid, the ex-chamipon waiker. F. Kiernan was second, P. Kelly third and F. Jaskocy fourth. The time was 36 minutes 27 seconds.

WHEELING.

The Late Col. Burdett's Work for the Few of the notices on the death of Col. Charles L. Burdett, who perished in the Park Avenue Hotal fire, and who was buried at Hartford, Conn., last week, have mentioned the national prominence he gained as an official of the League of American Wheelmen, official of the League of American Wheelmen, from 1891 to 1894. Col. Burdett began to ride in 1880. In the late 803 he became consul for the Connecticut Division. In 1891 he was elected First Vice-President of the national body. The year following he became President and was elected to succeed himself in 1893. His successor in 1894 was Col. Charles S. Luscomb, who was one of the pallbearers at the obsequies, as a representative of the L. A. W. During the time of his official association with the League he was immensely popular and he retained his membership in it till the end. At the time of his death he was handling a patent case for the American Bicycle Company. Col. Burdett was born at Nantucket, Mass., on Sept. 3, 1848. He made his home later at Hartford and in the Connecticut militia he rose from corporal to Major at one bound.

F G. Barnett, one of the old "Class B" racing men of '95, has reached Australia, after having worked his passage there on a sailing vessel. Barnett took to wheeling by his doctor's advice and after dropping out of the game for a few years has resumed racing on advice of a physician.

A rapidly increasing popularity for motor bicycles seems inevitable. The first step toward widening their range of use has been taken this year by a reduction in price. One maker, who put many wheels on the market last year, yesterday announced a drop in price from $200 to $150. The latter figures are those at which safeties sold in 1802, just ten years ago. The different styles in which motor bicycles are made up already equals the variety that was found in the "push-cycles," as the pedal-driven machines are beginning to be dubbed, in 1894. A new machine that has been awaited with much interest is now announced. The price announced on it is $176.

The "Bicycle Baggage bill," as it is known, which was so successfully carried through the New York State Legislature by the L. A. W. a few years ago, in spite of the "railroad lobby," is threatened in a measure by a recent action taken by the Central Traffic Association, in which it declared that dosswill be carried free and checked as baggage but that bicycles and baby carriages will have to pay express rates after March 1. Of course, this does not apply to New York State so far as bicycles are concerned, for the Armstrong law here is still in force. The effect of the baggage bill was, however, to so influence the trunk lines that nearly all of them carried bicycles free and some of the leading cyclists here are fearful least this be a stealthy move toward an ultimate evasion or abrogation of the law.

lee on the River Cam Causes Light Blues to Change Method of Training.

The annual 'Varsity boat race between Oxford and Cambridge will be rowed this year on Saturday, March 22. Owing to the severe weather and prevailing epidemics of colds and the grip the crews are not as far advanced in their practice as usual at this time of the year. On account of the ice on the river Cam the Cambridge crew could only go out in heavy built clinker boats, and had finally to abandon the river altogether. The crew seemed to be in danger of losing its chances of getting together at a most critical stage, but Sir John Edwards Moss, whose son rows at No. 3, invited the oarsmen to his place at Henley, where they are now rowing daily. They have begun to gain weight in spite of the hard work. Following are the names and weights of the crew:

Bristol, March 2.—Frederick Grinnell's new steam yacht, which has been under construction at the Herreshoff shops at Bristol this winter, has been named Quickstep, the same name borne by Mr. Grinnell's schooner yacht, which was built in New York in 1889. The new Quickstep is practically ready for launching, but may not be in shape to be taken to New Bedford to her owner until the latter part of next month. Two of the prospective owners of the new 30-foot class of cruisers and racers visited Bristol last week relative to the drawing of the boats by lot. All of the craft are ready to be rigged except the last four, which will be finished within six weeks.

Bates, Leigh Lancashire, first, 5 minutes 29 1-5 seconds; W. Housden, Upware, second, 5 minutes 30 4-5 seconds; James Smart, Welney, third, 5 minutes 32 seconds; Fred Ward, Sutton, St. Edmunds, fourth, 5 minutes 32 1-5 seconds. The race was the closest and most exciting ever skated for the title. WWOLESALE DRUG TRADE ABSOCIATION TOURNS
WHOLESALE DRUG TRADE ABSOCIATION TOURNS the Bonner Memorial $10,000 event at Brighton Beach if she remains sound. Orrin A. Hickok will have a stable under his supervision with Thornway as a prominent candidate, but whether he will himself do the driving is yet another matter. Sir Albert S., 2084, the unbeaten pacer, owned by William G. Laynge, will race East, but as yet no one appears posted as to who is to have his racing qualities.

Jack Curry has a filly by Onward from the dam of Axenite, whom he pronounces one of the fastest he has ever ridden behind. She was secured at one of the sales and proves to be a veritable gem and stake prospect. If raced, she will, he believes, take a record close to 2:12 this, her first year out. Probably the Curry stable will be fitted out at Empire City track. Mr. Butler is to send his East View Farm candidates there on April 1, and numerous other trainers propose to locate there for the season now there is no danger of being ordered to vacate to accommodate there for the season now there is no danger of being ordered to vacate to accommodate the runners. Dr. B. Moran's stable has been there ever since the opening of the grounds to the trainers, he having had a lease covering the running meeting dates. His lot in the main are highly bred youngsters including a brother to Gayton, 2:08%; a half-sister to Expressive, 2:12½; a daughter of Fanny Swope, 2:19½, sired by Baron Wilkes; a daughter of Antonio, who is a 2:15 trotter, and in Miss Bingen, by Bingen, 2:26%, a mare that is very speedy.

With the Speedway a sea of mud yesterday, owners of trotters, pacers and pleasureafording roadsters had to remain indoors and content themselves by reading of the doings of the trainers and plannings of track owners and managers.

There was fooled last week at Thomas W. Lawson's breeding place, Dreamwold, a full sister to Prelatess, two-year-old record 2:15½, and the $10.300 yearling filly Miss Previous. Mr. Lawson has named her Dreamwold Poncelacy. Her sire is Ponce de Leon, 2:13, and her dam Prelacy. It is now announced that the Boston horseman is to award $500 for the best-selected names given to the season's youngsters by their owners, and he stipulates that a combining of sires' and dams' names be the basis of award, he himself to be the sole judge.

It is now authoritatively announced that Mr. Lawson paid the Messrs. Hamlin of Village Farm $50,000 for Dare Devil, 2:00, a few weeks since. Not since the $41,000 p

ON BROOKLYN'S SPEEDWAY. Regulars Out in the Mud - Fitzsimmons in Mud and puddles did not deter a dozen or more of the reinsmen who frequent the Brooklyn Speedway, from driving down the road at a jogging pace yesterday. The speeding coterie gathered at Minden's and chatted until dark, but there was no speeding. Among those seen were: Robert Basch, Secretary of the Pleasure Drivers, Basch, Secretary of the Pleasure Drivers, Association, with Eli, 2264; William Horton behind Miss Irma, 2:1714; Matt Belford, driving Truxon, 2:3314; J. Bob Fitzsimmons was a conspicuous figure on a saddle horse. He was followed by his great Dane and close behind came a park trap containing Mrs. Fitzsimmons and the children. Tom Sharkey, driving Merry Pat, also was out.

The conditions embodied in the deed of gift were drawn up by the Columbia Yacht Club's committee. The letter follows:

Edward C. Berriman, Columbia Yacht Club, 155

Washington street, Chicago:

DRAB MR. BERRIMAN: I am in receipt of your kind letter of the 17th uit., and am greatly obliged to you for your kindness in going into this matter so fully. I heartly approve of the form of the deed of gift and also the conditions under which the cup is to be sailed for. I think these are so carefully drawn out and so very clear and precise that they leave no room for debate or discussion. I will have very great pleasure in sending you a cup which I hope will be worthy of the club and of the contest. This matter I will put in hand at once that you will have the prize over in good time. I should have liked much, had I been able, to arrange to be present at the first race for the cup, but this is impossible. I hope, however, if all goes well to be able to witness the race next year. Allow me to take this opportunity of again expressing to the members of the Columbia Yacht Club my warmest thanks for the great kindness and attention which they accorded me on my last visit to Chicago. Yours faitufully.

English Fencers to Invade America.

written to Capt. A. W. Seanoim, tencing instructor of Roxbury Latin School of Boston, to the effect that he will bring to America a team of crack English fencers. Sergeant Betts is one of the corps of instructors in physical training at the military depot at Aldershot. He has won honors in all branches of athletics, but more notably at foil and sabre work, and is an able exponent of the system of swordsmanship inaugurated by Cavallere Fernandino Masiello of Florence, and adopted for the use of the British army service. Among Sergeant Betts's medals are six won at foils and tour in sabre contests.

When Sergeant Betts and his party arrive there will be some interesting bouts with the rapier. Sergeant-Major Morgan of the Royal Military College at Kingston, Onto and Sergeant-Major Long of the garrison at Halifax, N. S., the foremost swordsmen of the British dominion on this side of the water, will doubtless be ready to cross bludes with Betts. Besides some of the maltres d'armes of New York and Boston, of both French and Italian schools, will be on edge for the Aldershot expert. Among those who will measure blades with the Britons are Prof. Lucien Fournon, M. Prevnelle, J. E. Rondelle, Count Spaghati and Henry Godet.

The Hockey Club of New York's team still leads in the Amsteur League tournament, but the games this week may change the order of the clubs. Three games are scheduled. Brinkerhoff of Brooklyn High School at the games of the Columbia University on Saturday afternoon. Not a few declared that the time, 6.3-5 seconds, is wrong. The official indoor record of the New York Interscholastic Athletic Association is 63-5 seconds, made by W. P. Simpson of Barnard School in 1893. This was equalled by A. G. It was said yesterday that the protest entered against Mackenzie, Jr., of Dwight School was not sustained. This result gives the trophy banner to Dwight School, which scored two firsts and one second, a total of 13 points. De Witt Clinton High School of Pottstown third, with 10 points. The many rumors that are in the air as to the eligibility of the Dwight School athletes have been taken up by Athletic Director Seixas as a challenge. At the next meeting of the New York Interscholastic A.
